Help me crowdsource 5 minutes on pre TEDxStockholm on Saturday

Posted by: Richard Gatarski in english, gig, okategoriserade

I believe that the inspirational advice from a fellow audience at my first TED in 1995 guided me to Nottingham next week. For the British Council I will do a gig entitled "I do not know!?" Three days ago I asked the crowd to help me prepare for here and now. And indirectly for next week and a fantastic future. The crowd responded. Here is what we put together - together.

(TED will publish a video of the presentation, the slides here does not justify neither the work involved from everyone that contributed, nor the content of their inspirations)
